■ EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

BLURIVER Commercial Advisors presents a ±0.97-acre corner at Tower Road and E 50th Avenue, offered at $1,500,000 fee simple or on a ground lease at $4.00 PSF for a fifteen-year minimum term. It is one of the last undeveloped pads on the most active retail stretch in Green Valley Ranch.

What transfers with the dirt is what this trade area no longer produces: approved drive-thru use, and a full quick-service restaurant plan set already designed and approved for the parcel. Horizontal work is largely behind it, rough graded, storm infrastructure off-site, roads in, utilities available within the frontage road. A buyer starts at vertical, not at entitlement.

The surrounding pipeline is the case for holding it. Denver International Airport moved 82.4 million passengers in 2025 and supports 244,172 Colorado jobs. Link 56, a 150-acre, $235 million Target-anchored district, is under construction six-tenths of a mile north with Portillo's, Starbucks, Black Rock Coffee and 7-Eleven signed. United Airlines is building a 114-acre flight training campus for roughly 5,000 employees at Tower and 64th.

Two exit paths run from the same basis: build and operate, or ground lease the pad to a national credit tenant and hold the fee. ALTA survey and title commitment are available to qualified buyers on request.

ENTITLEMENT IN HAND

A full quick-service restaurant plan set was previously designed and approved for this parcel, a ±2,734 SF building with a drive-thru, solar canopies over the parking field and the drive-thru lane, and a striped queue that clears the frontage road.

For a tenant, that removes the two slowest line items in a ground-up program: securing drive-thru approval, and running a site plan through review from a blank sheet. Plans are available to qualified prospects on request. Any tenant is free to submit its own prototype.

■ SIX REASONS THIS CORNER HOLDS ITS BASIS

01 Entitlement Transfers With The Land

Drive-thru approval is the hardest thing to get on this corridor, and it is already in place. No variance, no hearing, no timeline risk priced into the basis.

02 A Full QSR Plan Set, Previously Approved

A complete quick-service restaurant plan set for a $\pm 2,734$ SF building was designed and approved for this parcel. A buyer inherits the design work and the review cycle.

03 Two Exits From One Basis

Build and operate it, or ground lease the pad to a national credit tenant and hold the fee. The same $1,500,000 basis supports either path.

04 One Of The Last Corners On Tower Road

This stretch is effectively built out. Supply is constrained by the absence of remaining corners, not by demand — which is what protects the basis.

05 Demand Is Already Delivered

87,007 residents inside three miles, 16,478 vehicles per day on Tower Road at the site, and a median household income of $100,324 in the surrounding zip code.

06 The Pipeline Adds Demand, Not Supply

Link 56, the United Airlines training campus and Peña Station NEXT all add rooftops and daytime population to this corridor without adding competing pad sites.

Traffic counts: ESRI, 2025. Demographics: ESRI, 2026. Airport figures: Denver International Airport, January 2026; CDOT, 2025.

■ THE SPINE OF NORTHEAST DENVER RETAIL

Tower Road is the north–south spine of northeast Denver retail, connecting Green Valley Ranch to I-70, Peña Boulevard and Denver International Airport. Between 40th Avenue and 64th Avenue the corridor has absorbed a decade of national-brand expansion, and the next wave is under construction less than a mile from this corner.
