LOCATION

Riverside Mills lie towards the northern edge of Selkirk in an area of town which has been zoned for the safeguarding of employment land in the Scottish Borders Local Plan adopted in 2008. The Old Dyehouse offices themselves lie on the southeast edge of Riverside Mills, adjacent to Dunsdalehaugh.

Selkirk is one of the main towns in the central Scottish Borders. The town lies in the valley of Ettrick Water and the Riverside area, in which Riverside Mills sit, has undergone a good deal of redevelopment in recent years. This is continuing. The nearby Ettrick Riverside development is a project which has been/is undertaken by Scottish Enterprise.

Selkirks town centre lies to the southwest of, and uphill from, the offices and the nearby A7 provides good vehicular access both north to Galashiels and Edinburgh and south to Hawick and the northwest of England. Nearby properties are generally in a mix of commercial and industrial uses. Occupiers include Oregon, Rembrand and Eildon Housing Association.

DESCRIPTION

The subjects is a traditional B-listed two storey building with a single storey lean-to building at its northwest end. The building is attached to a neighbouring, and separately owned, section of Riverside Mills by a suspended structure at first floor level.

The original building appears to date from the 19th century, the lean-to and suspended first floor offices have apparently been added in the 20th century. Main walls are largely of stone construction, the suspended first floor offices and lean-to extension having rendered brick/block walls. The roof is generally pitched, timber framed and slated, the suspended first floor offices having a flat, felt and gravel covered roof and the lean-to extension having a mono-pitched roof covered with corrugated asbestos cement sheets.

Internally, the property is subdivided to provide a range of lettable office suites accessed in the main via the pedestrian access door to the rear (south elevation). We understand there are approximately 6 dedicated car spaces that are contained within the title and there is a right of access around the full perimeter of the building.

ACCOMMODATION

According to our calculations from measurements taken on site, we estimate the subjects extend to the following approximate net internal areas:

AREAS / FLOOR ETC	SQ M	SQ FT
Ground Floor	310	3,337
First Floor	183	1,974
Total	493	5,311

The offices are currently subdivided into sizes ranging from 84 sq. ft to 457 sq. ft.
