CREATING DESTINATIONS

We will curate an accessible, inclusive and sustainable destination within our portfolio, where the whole will be greater than the sum of the parts.

Beyond our individual buildings, we are committed to curating a place in the heart of London that works for all the people that interact with it. With the world changing at pace, there is an opportunity to look at our places differently. We have a responsibility to give fresh thought to how we plan, design and manage our spaces, with engagement and collaboration central to the process.

Aligned with our commitment to working with and listening to diverse voices and perspectives to create the most inclusive and welcoming places, we are adopting a listening-first approach, with regular dialogue with our customers, visitors and communities. Our focus is on creating a more welcoming, accessible and sustainable destination.

We are therefore looking beyond a 'building-by-building' approach and focusing on a holistic place-based experience, created through a deliberate and thoughtful use of buildings and space. As such, we have partnered with Westminster City Council on an ambitious public realm project that is focused on revitalising and transforming the public spaces along Regent Street, Piccadilly Circus and Haymarket.

The project plans to deliver an urban design transformation through a people and nature-focused response to the public spaces and a greener and more welcoming route from St James's Park to Regent's Park. Our ambition is also to transform the Haymarket area from an environment that people simply traverse across, to a prosperous cultural destination that connects and supports the best of London's entertainment, culture and workplace.

We believe that creating a West End that is set up to meet London's future requirements in a changing world will provide a greater experience for those who live, visit and work in this iconic place.
