Welcome to the neighbourhood

Nine Elms is one of the biggest transformation stories London has ever seen. After decades of planning, it has come to life with over 40 new developments. At its very heart is Embassy Gardens.

A design-led riverside district on London's South Bank, Embassy Gardens is a short walk from Vauxhall station (zone 1), with the new Nine Elms Tube station open just around the corner.

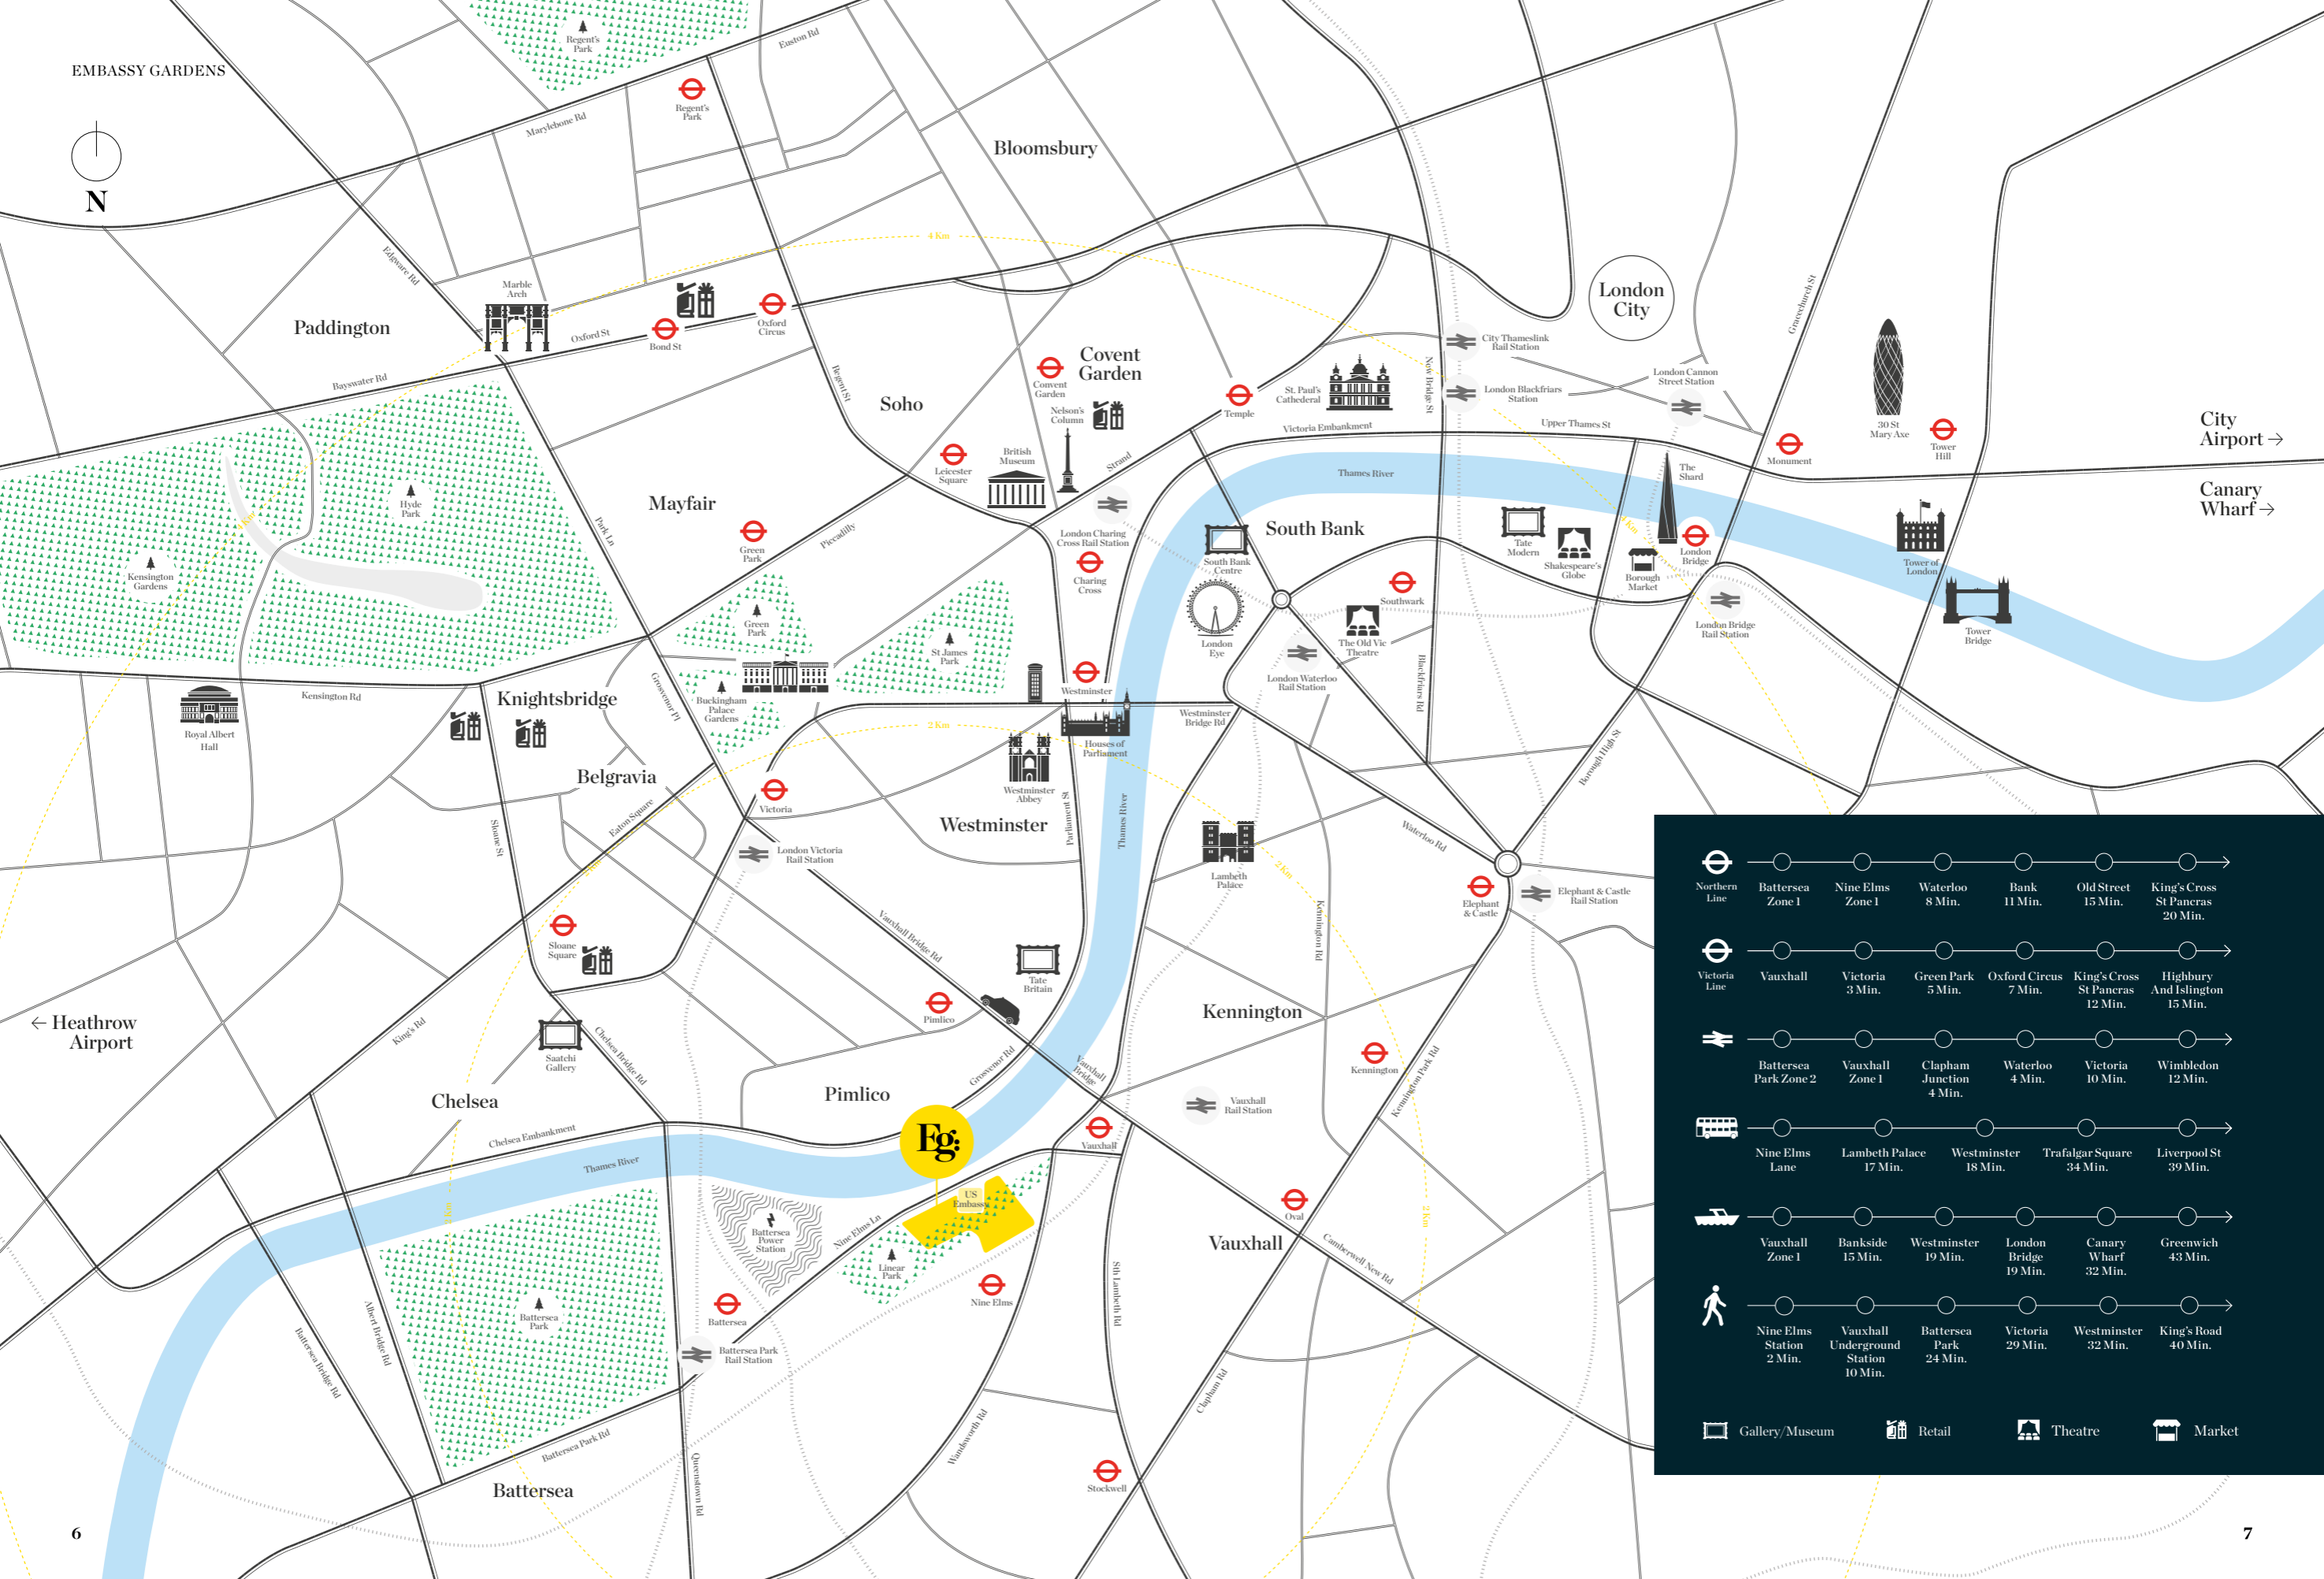

Linear Park, a new 11 hectare green space, is a key element of the Nine Elms development, bringing art and nature to the area. Spanning from Vauxhall station to the iconic Battersea Power Station, this green space provides a sustainable backbone to the quarter. Inspired by the High Line in New York, it sits beautifully alongside the new US Embassy, itself a cultural anchor for this new district.

This area sets a high standard for the future of London development.

With over 1,750 new homes, 850,000 sq ft of offices and 80,000 sq ft of shops and restaurants, Embassy Gardens is at the heart of Nine Elms. Linear Park will provide a sustainable, green backbone to the new quarter, from Vauxhall Bridge to Battersea Power Station.

The crown jewel of the Nine Elms

As the area continues to transform and attract the likes of Apple, Penguin, Random House and DK, London's centre of power begins to move south, bringing with it people, art and culture.

A key element of the overall masterplan for Nine Elms is the Linear Park, running from Vauxhall Bridge to the Battersea Power Station site, providing a sustainable, green backbone to the new quarter. The Park will open up a new pedestrian and cycle route through Embassy Gardens, containing 80,000 sq ft of retail and restaurant space.

Float through a 25-metre crystal clear, acrylic pool that stretches between two buildings. There's no other pool like it in the world.

Spanning the Embassy Gardens' Legacy Buildings is the Sky Pool, the world's first 'floating' swimming pool, allowing members of the development's exclusive Egle Club to glide between buildings 35 metres up in the sky.

It's underneath this impressive Sky Pool where Irish Masterchef judge, Robin Gill, has opened Darby's, his biggest restaurant project to date.

This buzzing neighbourhood is one of the most desirable addresses in London.
